Conference overview

Most developed countries have increasingly diverse populations of young people, with differing needs and expectations. What are the implications and opportunities for governments and their public libraries? This fifth of the highly-rated annual Auslib transTasman conferences will help public libraries in Australia and New Zealand to plan inclusive strategies to identify, proactively meet and advocate for the needs of young people in their communities.

12 to 24s will have a tightly focused two day program of international, New Zealand and Australian speakers, panel sessions, recommendations, a comprehensive information folder and full published proceedings for every delegate.

International presenters will include Erik Boekesteijn and Jaap van de Geer from the world-leading Delft Public Library (DOK) in The Netherlands.

12 to 24s aims to help

- identify the diversity of today's young people, where they are, what they want, how you can provide what they want, and how you can let them know that you have what they want
- increase awareness, and information exchange, by public librarians, youth workers and others about public library initiatives for young people occurring internationally and in Australia and New Zealand
- increase local and other governmental awareness of the unique 'cradle to grave' community capacity building scope and very high return on investment in public libraries.
